IPR SUMMER SCHOOL 2019

IPR UNIVERSITY CENTER

Save the date 3 - 7 June 2019!

IPR University Center will arrange its popular 6th edition of 2019 IPR Summer School from 3-7 June, 2019. The Summer School features a range of different academic events with thought provoking lectures and dynamic discussions on IP law and digital technology, such as artificial intelligence, gene editing as well as regulation of new actors in IP value chains. Ideally targeting students, researchers and practitioners, the summer school presents a unique possibility for the participants to enhance their knowledge on international and European IP law topics, while enjoying bright summer days and white nights in Finland. Successful participant would be awarded 5 ECTS study points.

More detailed information is available on IPR University Center website iprsummerschool.com
Do not hesitate to contact auri.vainio@hanken.fi for additional information on the programme.

HANKEN SCHOOL OF ECONOMICS IPL PROGRAM

Hanken is the leading Intellectual Property Law academic institution in Finland. Among other academic network, Hanken is hosting the IPR University Center. Founded in 2002, IPR University Center coordinates educations and research in intellectual property laws in the member universities.

Intellectual Property Law (IPL) is a specialization for English master degree programme at Hanken. IPL specialization provides a unique opportunity to combine legal and business studies and equipping students with solid expertise in both areas. The students learn from the experts from the industry, as well as internationally renowned visiting professors and guest lecturers. The studies offer an international environment of high academic standard, with a wide range of career opportunities.

Application opens in November:
